UPSET STOMACH, COSTIVE, BILIOUS, CASCARETS TONIGHT—DIME A BOX

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means your stomach is sour—your liver is torpid—your bowels constipated. It isn't your stomach's fault—it isn't indigestion—it's biliousness and constipation. Try Cascarets; they sweeten the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret to-night straightens you out by morning.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP.

You Can't Overload Us

It's an easy matter, when a sudden heavy demand is made in the factory, to overload its power plant, but you can't overload us.

We can meet any demands you can make for power any hour of the twenty-four.

Moreover, with electric motors on your machines, you can force the machines to their highest limit and make them produce their utmost. Our power and electric motors mean the lowest cost per unit of product. Isn't that worth considering? All we want is an opportunity to submit proof.

WILSON REVISES OLD INSCRIPTIONS

Lines Written by Dr. Eliot for Post-Office Building at Washington Are Changed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Cambridge, Mass., March 28.—Charles W. Eliot, ex-president of Harvard, evidently does not write fine enough English to suit President Woodrow Wilson, ex-president of Princeton, and so the latter has taken it upon himself to improve the English of his older and nonpolitical colleague associate.

Dr. Eliot was engaged by D. H. Burnham & Co., architects of the new post-office building in Washington to prepare suitable inscriptions, and this was done several years ago, when the plans were drawn. Within the past year, while the building was nearing completion, the attention of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo was called to the matter of inscriptions, and, according to the supervising architect, McAdoo consulted with the President about them.

Wilson, as a master of the English language, deemed it fit to revise and edit the lines without the knowledge of Dr. Eliot, according to Treasury officials and the government architect's office. As revised and edited by the President, the inscriptions were cut into the stone.

Rumors of a change in Dr. Eliot's wording of the inscriptions reached the public several days ago, but not until to-day was anything definite learned as to the nature and extent of the changes made by the President or his reasons for making the changes.

The post-office officials, who will soon occupy the building, said they knew nothing of the changes. Treasury officials say, however, that the changes were made to improve the English used. The inscriptions follow:

President Eliot's inscription for east pavilion—"Carrier of news and knowledge. Instrument of trade and industry. Promoter of mutual acquaintance, of peace and good will among men and nations."

President Eliot's inscription for west pavilion—"Carrier of love and sympathy. Messenger of friendship. Consoler of the lonely. Bond of the scattered family. Enlarger of the public life."

As revised by President Wilson—"Carrier of news and knowledge. Instrument of trade and industry. Promoter of mutual acquaintance, of peace and good will among men and nations."

The Miracle of Springtime

The Bluebirds and the Wildflowers will soon be here to transform and beautify the dull earth and the Pastures will be sweet and green.

Presently a Bluebird will sing. Then there will be stirrings in the leaf mould in the woods—and Spring Beauties, Hepaticas and Dog-Tooth Violets will push their fragile blossoms through the water-soaked earth.

There will be long soft rains. At night the Green Frogs will peep in the Pools.

Cold Angle Worms will wiggle up through the clammy earth from their winter depths, and most likely be seized by the Robins.

A Boy will come whistling across the fields with a birch pole and a can of bait.

Spring lambs will bleat quaveringly in the Hill Pastures.

Young, tender grass will put forth in the Lowland Meadows.

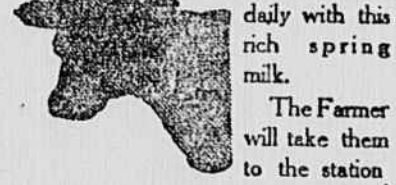

Milch Cows will be turned out from a thousand stables to crop the young, succulent Herbage.

The sweet flavors of Spring will be imparted to the Milk.

It will be Richer and Sweeter.

The Cream will be Thicker and of that Golden Hue that only sweet abundant Pasturage gives.

The Farmer's wife will scald the big Milk Cans. She and her servants will fill them daily with this rich spring milk.

The Farmer will take them to the station.

In a few hours they will be in our clean spotless Ice Cream plant.

In the evening you may have a Quart or a Brick of Golden Ice Cream for Dinner.

The scent of the new spring fields will arise from it and the flavor of the Sweet Country will linger on your palate.

But, for your own sake,
be sure it's

CUSTOM PECULIAR TO METHODISM

Moral Standing of Preachers Ascertained in Way Different From Other Denominations.

ALL MINISTERS BLAMELESS

Committee in Joyce Case Recommends His Suspension for Period of Six Months.

BY MARIE BAYS.
Baltimore, Md., March 28.—The call of the twenty-second minute question "Are all the preachers blameless in their life and official administration," was concluded during the session this morning of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the name of each member of the conference having been called in this connection, and the answer, with reference to each one having been "Nothing against him." The character of every preacher was passed.

When the call of this question had been concluded, Bishop Denney said that this result was one for which he and every member of the conference should thank God. He then spoke of the fact that this manner of ascertaining the moral standing of preachers is a custom that is peculiar to Methodism, and that nothing like it is to be found in any other denomination.

"If one of you know anything against one of your brethren," he said, "you should tell it to the conference. Don't belong to the blackhand, and talk it under cover, but say it in the open and let the matter be settled where it should be settled, which is in the conference."

Bishop Denney then urged the preachers to be definite in their work and in making their reports, and spoke of the indefinite idea conveyed by the much-used expression "good year" in reports.

The report of the committee of trial in the case of W. H. H. Joyce was submitted to the conference early in the session, and is as follows:

"We the committee of trial in the case of W. H. H. Joyce, find as follows: 'Specification 1, of the bill of charges, sustains the charge, and the evidence sustains the specification.'

"Specifications 2 and 3 do not sustain the charge."

"We therefore find the said W. H. H. Joyce guilty as charged in the bill of charges, and we fix the penalty at suspension from the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for the period of six months from this date, March 27, 1914."

This report was stated by J. T. Williams, chairman, and by the thirteen other members of this committee.

The report went to record on the minutes of the conference, without further action of the conference, no further action being necessary.

A little later in the session G. D. White, presiding elder of the Tidewater district, stated that he had received a letter from Mr. Joyce, requesting the conference to grant him a location.

The vote of the conference was taken and Mr. Joyce was granted a location.

The election of delegates and alternate delegates to the general conference was concluded during the session to-day.

The three alternate lay delegates elected are the following named: M. L. Walton, of Woodstock; H. K. Field, of Alexandria, and D. H. Hines, of Franklin, West Va.

The remaining three clerical delegates elected are H. H. Sherman, of Staunton; D. H. Kern, of Alexandria, and J. H. Wells, of Roanoke.

Three alternate clerical delegates were elected also, and they are W. S. Hammond, of Woodstock; E. L. Wolf, of Brightwood, D. C., and H. M. Tanner, of Harrisonburg.

The answer to the second call of minute question 12 was that Christman K. Ray, a local preacher from the Baltimore district, the required conditions having been met, was elected to deacon's orders.

Several interests were presented to the conference to-day by visitors, as follows: Pain College, at Augusta, Ga., for the education of colored people, by Rev. J. D. Hammond, president; Randolph-Macon Woman's College, by Dr. W. A. Webb, president; the American Bible Society, by Rev. M. B. Porter, of Richmond, district superintendent. The conference contributed about $250 to Pain College.

This evening the anniversary of the conference board of church extension was held. The speaker was Rev. F. McMurray, secretary of the board of church extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

FOURTH FIRE IN WEEK BREAKS OUT IN DURHAM

Durham, N. C., March 28.—Another fire, the fourth within a week here, broke out this morning in West Durham, causing property damage to the extent of $15,000. The first fire originated in the Duke building, the second in the Carlton-Hackney seed store, and the third in the Durham Buggy Company's plant.

Two grocery stores, a barber shop and two homes were destroyed this morning. The fire originated in Harris & Carter's grocery store, and gained headway before the fire-fighting apparatus could arrive at the scene. At one time it appeared as if the entire West Durham section would go up in flames.

Fire broke out in the Durham Buggy Company's plant last night and threatened to destroy the structure. Quick work by the firemen saved the building.
